Cathy Muñoz, Commissioner	SUBJECT REFERENCE	Cost-of-Living Adjustment AS 23.30.175; 8 AAC 45.138

Pursuant to Alaska Statute 23.30.175(c) and regulation 8 AAC 45.138(b), the Department of Labor and Workforce Development is required to identify an organization to calculate a cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) for a workers' compensation beneficiary when the recipient no longer resides in Alaska.

The Department has selected The Council for Community and Economic Research (C2ER) for providing COLA information (see <https://www.c2er.org/>). The attached list will be in effect from January 1, 2023, to December 31, 2025. The cost of living for Alaska is the average cost of living for Anchorage, Juneau, and Fairbanks.

If a recipient does not reside in a location listed on the attached COLA ratio list, you must use the cost-of-living ratio for the location nearest the recipient's residence. If the recipient lives in a location equidistant from two published locations, the ratio that results in the higher compensation rate must be used.

For an out-of-country COLA determination, send a request to:

Division of Workers' Compensation
Attn: Administrative Officer
PO Box 115512
Juneau, AK 99811-5512
workerscomp@alaska.gov

Effective November 7, 2005, a COLA may not raise a recipient's weekly compensation rate to an amount that exceeds the weekly compensation rate that the recipient would have received if the recipient had been residing in Alaska. COLA shall be applied in accordance with the Alaska Supreme Court's Decision in Roberge v. ASRC Construction Holding Co. (Slip Op. S-17897), issued February 4, 2022. In essence, this Decision dictates that the COLA adjustment be applied first, then capping the resultant compensation rate at the maximum compensation rate for Alaska established through Alaska Statute 23.30.175(a) (120% of the average weekly wage in Alaska).

If an employer or recipient wishes to dispute a COLA rate, the party may petition the Alaska Workers' Compensation Board for a review of the cost-of-living ratio for a particular recipient and request a hearing on the petition, in accordance with AS 23.30.110 and 8 AAC 45.138(g).
